

Bucharest - Being Romania's capital, this place is full of fun surprises for the visitors. One can easily observe that some parts of the city feel like they could have been lifted from 19th-century Paris whereas, others remain rooted in the Communist era, while most part of this throbbing city is focused squarely on the wide area.

It is the greatest pleasure to know that Bucharest offers a rare combination of a fascinating past and an optimistic future to the tourist who are visiting the place for the first time. You can take a long walk to glance through the picturesque churches of Lipscani, catch a cut-price feast of high culture at the Bucharest National Opera and wonder at the enchanting beauty that comes from the enormous Palace of the Parliament - but that's not the whole story.

Bucharest is a place where you'll find fun, relaxation and sheer hedonism awaiting for you as well. Some of the fascinating destinations in Eastern Europe have the verve and energy of Bucharest. The wave of gourmet food sweeping the city to the underground energy of the city's nightclubs are one of the greatest tourist attractions which in turn has made Bucharest full of life and that's why so many people fall in love with enchanting city.

Enjoy Superb Nightlife, Every Day of the Week

Bucharest has seen its greatest transition from Communism to Hedonism. Nowadays, you'll find DJs pumping out a wide range of music from avant-garde electronica to raucous turbo-folk at favorite spots like Control Club and Club A, whatever night of the week you venture out.

Lipscani, is one of the old towns where you'll find most fascinating nightlife scenes of Bucharest. The place is completely packed with bars, cafes, and restaurants that heave with locals nearly every night and are especially during the summer months when people find ways to cope with the scorching heat. You'll also find that clubs are liberally scattered throughout the city making it all the more important to arrange transport to and from when out and about.

Are you looking for nightlife in Bucharest? No worries, the city has plenty of bars and clubs open for tourists and locals who want to hang out with their friends and have a beer, a shot or a cocktail. Most of the great places out there are open only until 11 pm or 12 am

The nightlife in Bucharest has been growing ever since tourism began to spread to the area at the end of the twentieth century. Venues that visitors might be interested in checking out include

Fratelli is being one of the best clubs in Bucharest, with smart people, smart outfits, and good music. If you've tried Bamboo and it's too shiny for you, the next one on the list must be Fratelli (be there between 12.00-01.00 o'clock or you'll end up staying at a queue). In-case if you are dressed casually, you won't be able to get in.

This is what you'll find at Fratelli - "ONLY THE GREAT MAKE IT HERE!"

This place was reborn from his ashes and now is the best concert venue, where live music feels at home. It's also great for corporate events because we can create any setup in a large open space."

Nomad Skybar, as you might have heard from a lot of people is a fusion of art, a mix of elements belonging to various civilizations of the world. This place brings together overseas gathered experiences and can naturally get a variety of forms, being sometimes a fancy restaurant, with smooth and carefully selected tastes, other times it gives a vibrant, friendly and empathetic experience to the tourists, sometimes a meditative & relaxing lounge, other times an intense and exuberant club. This place is located in the heart of Bucharest's nightlife, two floors above the area's anarchic madness, Nomad has just the sky above it, in all its variety of forms and colors.

Face Club Unforgettable experience in exceptional surroundings... Face Club is the place to be in Bucharest. Our greatest mission is to perform consistently and deliver services to our customers with the highest level of quality.

Loft - restaurant and lounge, it's known for the good food (a little pricy) and the atmosphere on a friday night (with live music). You have to reserve a table or you'll end up at the bar. People are well dressed and have high expectations.

"Caru cu bere" has been reported as a landmark in itself. The food is usually good, service is good, the prices are fair and the atmosphere of the place should not to be missed.

With a popular city break destination year-round, Bucharest has a lively musical scene that becomes even busier in the summer. You can experience the legendary nightlife and great concerts, the music festivals bring the city together for huge outdoor celebrations that turn into long parties under the stars.

- Bucharest Jazz Festival
- Rock the City
- Outernational Days
- Metalhead Meeting

- Balkanik!
- George Enescu Music Festival.

Cluj- Napoca: Bohemian cafes, music festivals and vigorous nightlife are the soul of Cluj-Napoca, Romania's second-largest city. With increasing flight links to European cities, Cluj is welcoming more and more travellers, who usually shoot off to the Apuseni Mountains, Maramureş or more popular towns in southern Transylvania. But once arrived, first-time visitors inevitably lament their failure to allow enough time in Cluj.

Nuba Club: This restaurant/club is not only one of Bucharest's premier venues for the society and the party people – it is also hard to find a place like this anywhere in the world. A very beautiful, fashionable crowd flocks in for dinner, stays for the party afterwards, orders a lot of Vodka and Champagne and dances the night away. On good nights the vibe is fantastic!

Biutiful By The Lake: Walking around the lake in Bucharest there are quite a few restaurants, but Biutiful looked the most inviting. It also has a great view.

Although there were six of us, we only had two different meals for lunch – Caesar salads and Salmon salads. Both were a good size, fresh and very tasty. Good chicken and salmon, crisp lettuce, Parmesan, quails eggs and tasty dressing.

Good value and the drinks were not expensive.

Service was quick and helpful.

One of the best meals we had on our visit to Bucharest.

Bistro GUXT: Unbelievable dinner. It is your loss if you do not try this restaurant. These sisters have a winning combination. Everything is freshly prepared from locally sourced ingredients. One sister is the chef, the other sister makes the desserts and homemade pasta. They have a nice selection of Romanian wines.
